

Message from the School

As a workforce development and adult education provider, AoH's mission is to provide high quality adult education and services that change lives and improve our community. All classes and programs are free for DC residents over the age of 18. Students can earn a high school diploma through the GED exam or National External Diploma Program. Also, AoH offers workforce training in high-demand sectors, including healthcare and information technology. Learners also have access to career development and support services

School Enrollment

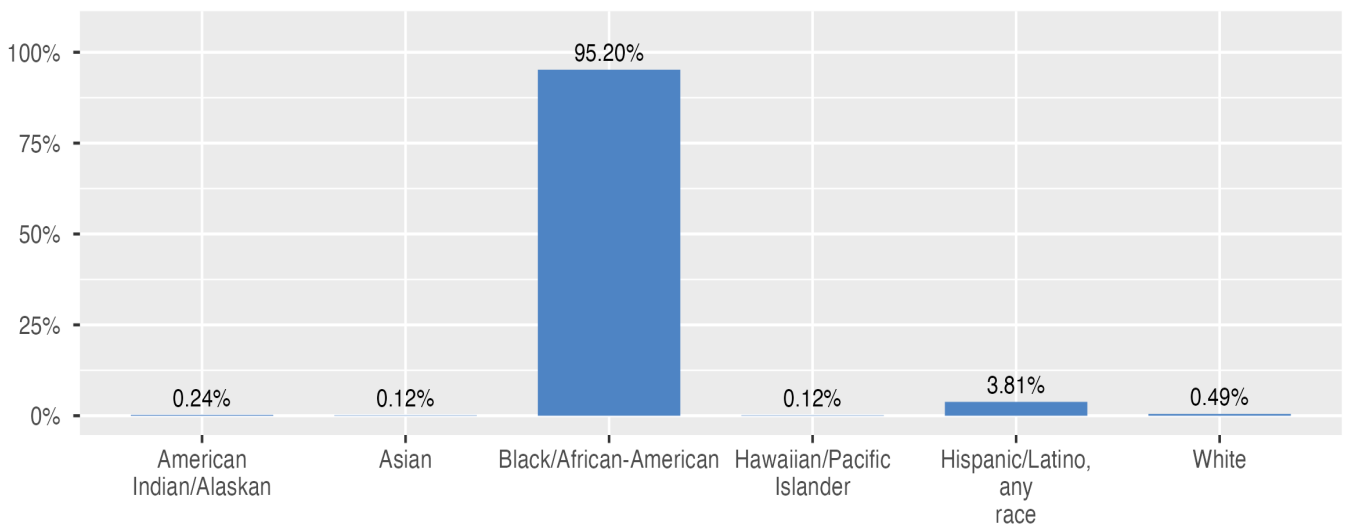

The ever-enrolled count is the total number of students who are enrolled at any point during the school year; a student who attends a school for one day or 180 days is counted the same way. For this reason, the ever-enrolled count will always be larger than the audit count.

School Safety and Discipline

Information about discipline and school safety in DC, in accordance with the U.S. Department of Education's Civil Rights Data collection, including suspensions and expulsions for students, school related arrests, reported incidents of violence, bullying, and harassment are available in the OSSE Discipline report and data files (<https://osse.dc.gov/page/data-and-reports-0>).

Attendance

Review information on attendance below, including in-seat attendance for all students (there is a separate measure of attendance for pre-K students, since pre-K is not compulsory), and the percentage of students chronically absent, meaning that they miss at least 10% of the school days for which they are enrolled throughout the school year at the school.
